COUNCIL FOR DIVERSITY AND INNOVATION

One mission. Three ways to tell it.

Compare the same homepage, project and learning experience in three visual directions. Every concept is responsive and clickable.

CoDIN

Knowledge grows where we listen.

01 / PEOPLE & PRACTICE

Living Field Journal

Warm, editorial and human. Field stories lead; programmes and research follow.

Project page (?concept=journal&page=project) LMS screen (?concept=journal&page=learn)

CoDIN

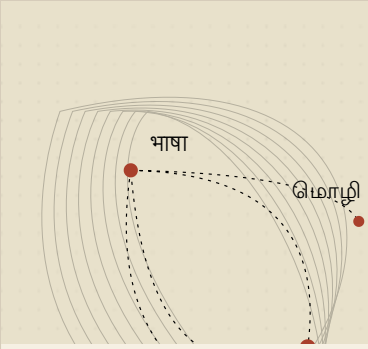

Diverse knowledge. Shared possibilities.

02 / RESEARCH & POSSIBILITY

Contemporary Research Institute

Calm, precise and credible. Research outputs and opportunities are easy to find.

Project page (?concept=institute&page=project) LMS screen (?concept=institute&page=learn)

03 / MANY VOICES. CONNECTED FUTURES.

Diversity Atlas

Distinctive, multilingual and place-led. Geographic graphics suggest connections without needing a maintained map.

Project page (?concept=atlas&page=project) LMS screen (?concept=atlas&page=learn)

A useful team review

Try each concept on desktop and mobile. Open a project, explore the academy and ask:

1. Does this feel like CoDIN and the communities we work with?
2. Can a first-time visitor understand our work and find a next step?
3. Does it support researchers, partners and learners equally well?
4. Can the team keep the content current without extra design work?

These previews use shared fixtures. No forms submit and no Atlas connection is made.